The magic unicorn

Once upon a time there lived a unicorn she was very sweet and helped everybody . one day a boy named jack decided to buy the unicorn he thought that it was a normal horse but when he was riding it suddenly it started to talk jack was very scared and thought the unicorn was haunted but then he realized that the unicorn was actually magical . his two brothers made fun of him being weaker than them so he thought that he would teach his brothers a lesson the unicorn had magic powers so it turned jack invisible he then went to one of his brothers and tapped him on his shoulder the brothers name was tom he got scared that he ran into the house and hid behind the bed turns out he was a scaredy cat then he told his mom about it so his mom said it must be your imagination and that night when they all slept there was a huge dust storm so they all left the town and so did the unicorn then they decided to buy a horse they didn't know that jack had a unicorn so they bought it and tom never bullied jack again and the lived happily ever after thank you have a nice day

by Aahana agarwal